

The Congregation for Humanistic Judaism of Morris County
Jewish Historical Society of MetroWest Archives
Prepared by David Druce, Revised by Jill Hershoin – April, 2008

Record Group: 1

Collection Number: 11-03

Creator: Eric S. Herschman

Inclusive Dates:
1999-2003

Extent:
.25 cf

Abstract:
Materials relating to the Congregation for Humanistic Judaism of Morris County

Acquisition information: Donated by Eric S. Herschman

Preferred Citation:
The Congregation for Humanistic Judaism of Morris County

Access restrictions:
The collections of the Society shall be available for examination and study by any member of the public under the normal security procedures and other special procedures established for the protection of the specific collections.

Copyright:
For information about permission to reproduce or publish materials, please contact Jill Hershoin, Archivist, Jewish Historical Society of MetroWest.

History:
Humanistic Judaism is a Detroit-based movement that observes some Jewish rituals but does not believe in a god in the context of Humanistic belief. In 1999, a group of Morris County residents founded and built a place of worship in Chester, NJ. Another group of Humanist Jews is located in West Orange, NJ.

Scope and Content:
This collection contains photocopied newspaper clippings, a booklet for a Bar Mitzvah Ceremony, a guide for Yom Kippur services, two brochures for the Society of Humanistic Judaism in Farmington Hills, MI, and a Newsletter (Winter, 2003).

- I. Press
- II. Publications
- III. Services

Conservation Notes:

N/A

Removals:

None

Organization:

Alphabetically